1,50,000 tonnes was set for 1994-95 as against 1,10,000 tonnes in 1993-94; and

(c) whether Government have sidelined the interests of domestic consumers in pursuit of short-term gains tn export earnings, when India has no say in the highly volatile international coffee market?

THE MINISTER OF STATE OF THE MINISTRY OF COMMERCE (SHRI P. CHIDAMBARAM): (a) The share of India in the world frade of coffee is estimated at 3.07 per cent for the year 1994-95.

(b) The estimated production of coffee in India for 1993-94 and for 1994-95 is at 2,08,000 tonnes and 1,80,000 tonnes respectively. This variatio is due to biennial bearing tendency seen in coffee production where a peak season is normally followed by a lean crop. The target for exports for 1993-94 and 1994-95 were fixed at 1,50,000 tonnes for each year. The export target for 1994-95 was to be met from the carry over stock of 1993-94 and productton of 1994-95.

(c) No, Sir. Ensuring domestic availability of coffee has been one of the concerns of the Government. In order to improve the same, a quantitative restrictton on exports of coffee was imposed in August, 1994 which was removed on 31st Dec., 1994 after ensuring adequate domestic availability. Recently, the Government has allowed import of decaffeinated|roasted coffee under open General Licence to further improve domestic availability.
